

Event on Preventive Vigilance by Bhopal Regional Office

As a prelude to Vigilance Awareness Week 2024, the Bhopal Regional Office, National Housing Bank organized an enlightening event on "Preventive Vigilance" on October 23, 2024. The session was graced by the esteemed presence of Sh. Ramnish Geer, Joint Director of the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI), as the chief guest. In his address, he underscored the crucial role of preventive vigilance in fostering a culture of transparency, integrity, and accountability within organizations. He highlighted how proactive measures in vigilance can preempt malpractices and ensure ethical conduct in professional environments.

The event witnessed the enthusiastic participation of over 40 officials from various Housing Finance Companies (HFCs). Through engaging discussions and presentations, attendees explored the best practices and strategies in preventive vigilance, gaining valuable insights into its implementation.

The gathering provided a platform for officials to exchange ideas, experiences, and solutions to common challenges related to vigilance. The event's success was marked by active engagement and positive feedback from participants.

The session not only reinforced the importance of vigilance but also inspired the participants to integrate these principles into their organizational frameworks, contributing to a more transparent and accountable workplace.
